Malvern Water Race shutdown update

Contract works proposed in the advertised area have now been postponed until after August, however minor works in the Kirwee area will continue with reduced flow in some water races.

Stock water should still be available at all times with the possible exception of a one day outage.

Should this occur, it will be advertised on the Council website.

Lincoln Town Centre

Lincoln Opportunities is a study of Lincoln town centre. It looks at what makes it unique and what can be done in the future to keep it special as the town grows.

The Council wants your opinions on seven opportunities to influence the way the town centre looks and is utilised for pedestrians, cyclists and vehicles.

In the next few days, Lincoln residents will receive a leaflet with details of the seven opportunities. Details and the full report are also available on the Council website and at Lincoln library.

To get involved, fill in the feedback form or online survey, or come to the Open Day drop-in session at Lincoln Event Centre on Tuesday 21 June from 5pm – 8pm. The team will also be at Lincoln market on Saturday 4 July.

The Council wants to make sure that the future town centre remains a special place as it grows and that we make the most of the opportunities that we have.

Stronger Selwyn

Deadline for claims from 6 June aftershock is 6 September, 2011

The Earthquake Commission (EQC) has classified the 6 June magnitude 5.5 aftershock centred near Rolleston as a new event for insurance purposes.

What this means is people have three months to contact EQC and lodge a claim for new or worsened damage caused by the 6 June event.

Given the location of the aftershock, the Selwyn District Council urges residents to take a good look around their homes and check to see if they have any new damage.

If new damage is found, please lodge a claim by contacting EQC on 0800 326 243 or by visiting www.eqc.govt.nz.

Make sure heating sources are safe to use

With winter upon us, many people in Selwyn rely on heating that uses a chimney or flue to keep warm.

Residents are urged to get any chimneys or flues that may have been damaged by the latest or earlier earthquakes inspected by a qualified person before using them. Home owners need to contact a builder or a heating installer to carry out these inspections.

If your main source of heating is damaged contact EQC on 0800 326 243

You may be eligible for the priority heating programme – especially if somebody living in your household:

- has a medical condition or a disability
- is a young child
- is pregnant
- is vulnerable to the cold because of age.

If you need any other earthquake related assistance or advice, there are services that can help.

Give Jenny Harkerss at the Selwyn District Council a call on 347 2570 or 027 435 2594, or email her at jenny.harkerss@selwyn.govt.nz.

Jenny can give you advice on what services are available and who exactly to get in touch with, or can even contact them on your behalf.

Keep your screen clean

Have you got your free windscreen cloth yet?

Road Mum is not one to nag! But... keep your screen clean.

Look out for Road Mum around the district over the winter months; she will be giving away even more winter driving goodies to drivers.

If you're visiting any Selwyn Service Centre or Library, look out for the Road Mum posse in their cute pink t-shirts.

Go to Road Mum's Facebook page to find out more.

Remember Mother knows best!
