Selwyn's halls & community centres to be reviewed

Consultation has started on the draft strategic plan for Selwyn's halls and community centres to reflect the changing needs of the district's communities.

As a result of growth in the district, changes in community expectations, and earthquake damage to a number of facilities, the Council has recognised the need to review the provision and management of its community centres and halls.

The plan suggests there's a need to encourage greater use of these halls 'to enrich community life and vitality through modernising the role of these important community facilities and what is delivered in them, and in some cases their governance and management'.

The draft Strategic Plan has been considered by Council and will now be the focus of workshops with management committees of community centres and halls, owners of other halls in the district and the wider community. At the end of this process feedback will be considered by the Project Group/Council before finalising the plan.

Copies of the draft Community Centres and Halls Strategic Plan and submission forms are available on the Council website, www.selwyn.govt.nz or you can browse a copy at the Selwyn District Council offices in Rolleston, or any Council Library/Service Centre.

Online Wellbeing Survey goes live soon – have your say

SOCIAL RECOVERY

How do you feel about the progress of the recovery and your day to day life?

The self-select version of the Wellbeing Survey, which goes live online on 15 October, will help CERA and other agencies working on recovery to better understand people's perceptions and experiences.

From 15 October to 2 November all residents can take part in the survey by visiting www.cera.govt.nz

Nielsen is undertaking a survey of 2,500 greater Christchurch residents aged 18 years and over who were randomly selected from the Electoral Roll.

The second stage of the Wellbeing Survey is the self-select version of the survey which will give all residents the opportunity to provide insights and feedback.

CERA General Manager Community Wellbeing Michelle Mitchell says all residents of greater Christchurch are encouraged to participate in the online survey.

"It is open to everyone, as we want to understand everyone's experiences not just those who have been most affected. This is an important opportunity for people to tell us what they think about how things are going."

Survey questions cover issues like quality of life, stress, how connected people are with others, satisfaction with the recovery and the positive impacts people are experiencing.

CERA and its partner agencies will use the Survey results to identify where more support, assistance and resources may be needed and to enhance areas that are going well.

Results will be presented in the Canterbury Wellbeing Index on the CERA website in early 2013.

REMINDERS

Some friendly reminders from the Animal Control team

All dogs must be registered, so if you are one of the few that haven't renewed your registration then you need to be aware that a $300 fine will be issued soon. Any new owners and/or dogs to the district must be registered with us as well. If you are having difficulty in doing this please contact us.
